

Key Spouse Quick Crisis Reference Guide

This is a quick reference guide to identify who to call in a particular situation.

9-1-1:

1. Immediate spouse or child abuse situation
2. Reference to suicidal actions

Immediately call the First Sergeant to inform him/her of a 9-1-1 referral. The First Sergeant will then take appropriate action.

First Sergeant:

1. Suicidal or homicidal thoughts
2. Child abuse, molestation or rape
3. Suspected spouse abuse
4. Family death
5. Depressive symptoms

Squadron Command:

1. The First Sergeant is the primary point of contact
2. If you are unable to reach the First Sergeant, contact the Squadron Commander

Airman & Family Readiness Center:

1. Family needs financial help - Air Force Aid Society
2. Parent is stressed - Give Parents a Break
3. Automobile trouble - Air Force Aid Society
4. Stay at home parent - playgroup/volunteer opportunities
5. Couple relationship issues - Military Family Life Consultants
6. School-age issues - School Liaison

Family Advocacy:

1. New Parent Support
2. Parenting Classes
3. Special Needs Family - Special Needs Identification Assignments Coordination Program

If in Doubt, call the Squadron's First Sergeant. In an emergency situation, the Command Post can contact the Commander or First Sergeant 24/7.